

From the Spirit of Democracy.
LET THIS "GO THE ROUNDS."
 To prove that the Banks and their Whig friends are the cause of there being so little specie in the country, just hear what Daniel Webster said in 1816, then lend it to our Whig neighbors:

"Why have we so small an amount of specie in circulation? Certainly the only reason is because we do not require more. We have but to require its presence, and it will return, but we voluntarily banish it by a great amount of small bank notes. In most of the States, the banks issue notes of low denominations, down even to a single dollar. How is it possible, under such circumstances, to retain specie in circulation? All experience shows it to be impossible. The paper will take the place of gold and silver." * * * The evil then, is the issuing of small notes by State banks. Of these notes, that is to say, of notes under $5, the amount now in circulation is doubtless $10,000,000. Can these notes be immediately supplied by specie circulation of equal amount. The subject is a great one as it is connected with the safety and stability of the currency, and it will justify a serious reflection on the means of accomplishing it. * * * It is for other States to follow the good example of those which have prohibited them and the work is done. We must hope that all notes under $5 may be entirely withdrawn from circulation."

The Pottsville Emporium gives the following account of a phenomena in Schuylkill county that is worthy of notice and explanation. If coal mountains are liable to sink, or if the coal as it lays embedded in the mine, will if once on fire, continue to burn, great care should be taken by those engaged in mining, as it must in most situations be next to impossible to extinguish it.

THE BURNING MOUNTAIN.
 This coal mine, which we have frequently noticed, and which took fire about eighteen months since, continues burning with renewed force. There are now three distinct craters, varying in diameter from thirty to seventy-five feet, and each at a depth of from 15 to 25 feet below the surface. The heat emanating from the craters is extremely intense, from which issue immense volumes of smoke, and the smell of sulphur is any thing but agreeable. The rumbling noise would make a visiter think of earthquakes, and his examinations would consequently be made with a very careful step. The vegetation for a great distance round has been completely destroyed; and its seared appearance gives a desolate, and adds to the terrific character of the work of destruction. We cannot conjecture when the fire will stop, or how it may be quenched by the management of the proprietors; but it is an extraordinary phenomenon and as such is well worth a visit from the scientific and curious.

HARD CIDER.
 Dr. Reese, at a meeting recently held in the Central Presbyterian church, Broome street New York, eloquently remarked: "But yesterday I saw a virtuous widowed mother agonized over the body of her only son, not yet verged into manhood, brought to her peaceful home, drunk, and for the first time, and made so at a political meeting to which curiosity had led him. Sir, I am not indifferent to party feeling; I too have my preferences, and strong ones too; but I had rather every political party were annihilated to-morrow, than that the virtuous and aged matrons of our country should be brought down to their graves in sorrow by the ruins of their sons, in their first introduction to public life."

We leave our readers each to make his comment on the above. We have no fear of such a party's success, in a land of religion and moral intelligence.

AN EXCELLENT TOAST.
 The following sentiment accompanied the letter of the Hon. Ellis Lewis to the Democratic committee of arrangement for celebrating the 64th anniversary of our national independence. It has reference to the erection of the Colossal Statue in Philadelphia to commemorate the services of the Father of his Country:—Pat. Emporium.

RIOT AND FIRE LAST NIGHT.
 Last night, shortly after dark, the mob again began to assemble on the line of the railroad, and the first demonstration of attack was upon a house of entertainment, called "Head Quarters," on the west side of Front above Malcom street, in which twenty-six of the Police were about to sup, they having been on the watch there since the commencement of the riot.

About a thousand men, composed of the party which assailed it, and the indwellers, overawed by the number of the mob, made a quick retreat. The general populace entered, and about half past nine, the flames which had been communicated to the building burst forth, and the whole edifice was soon one mass of flames. The building was totally consumed, and at the hour of writing this (one o'clock) was naught but a shapeless heap of ruins.

The neighborhood was quiet at the time the writer left. It is due to the Firemen to say that they have not exerted themselves with such efficiency to save the buildings in the vicinity since the burning of the Pennsylvania Hall.

On Tuesday, several of the rioters were brought before the court. Two were tried, found guilty—one sentenced to the Eastern Penitentiary for seven years, the other ten.

"Hard Cider" is the most appropriate motto for the federal factions. It is a perfect emblem of all their arguments—being made by "grinding" and "pressure."

We regret to learn, says the Chicago Democrat, from the best of whig authority, that Martin Van Buren has come out decidedly against the present administration.

The Philadelphia North American says: The ship Henry sailed from this port on Wednesday for London, with a cargo of thirty-three thousand seven hundred and fifty bushels of Oats. We believe this is the first large shipment of oats made from this country to England, if not absolutely the first shipment of any extent. In addition to the above, she carried out 1,000 bushels of corn and 70 hogheads of tobacco.

Neapolitan Indemnity.—We understand that the 7th instalment due from the Government of Naples has been promptly paid and is now on its way from Havre to this country, in gold.

The "KYRSTONE" comes to us in an entire new dress—an evidence that the democracy know how to patronize an independent advocate of their principles.

Commendum—such a good'un—Why was Eve when walking with her first born son in her arms, like a modern dandy?—D'ye give it up? Because she carried a Cain.

From the U. S. Gazette, Tuesday, July 27.

ANOTHER RIOT IN KENSINGTON.
 The workmen again yesterday morning attempted to prosecute the work on the proposed line of the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad, and again were dispersed by a number of persons, principally women, who had assembled about the spot. This was about ten o'clock in the morning, and having been found impossible to proceed their labors were suspended, and the company had to ask from the authorities the aid of the police.

The officers, about 100 in number, started for the spot, and when they arrived at Kensington numbered about 115.

Under their surveillance, the workmen proceeded; but were soon disturbed by the populace, opposed to the Road when they were repulsed by the Police, who took 15 or 18 of the rioters prisoners, but, an attack having been made upon them, they were only able to retain 8 men and one woman. In this melee, six or seven of the police were much injured, and two, Messrs. Dargell and Taylor were seriously.

An attack upon the Police, made by about 500 men, followed, in which the officers stood their ground, and made several arrests. Shortly after the mob returned furiously to the attack, and drove the Police from the ground.

After that the police did not appear over the boundary line between the Northern Liberties and Kensington; the workmen did not resume, and quiet was restored for the remainder of the afternoon.

The excitement was so intense in the District, that the Reporters found it next to impossible to gather exact particulars; but the following is submitted as a pretty accurate "list of the wounded."

Thomas Jackson, grocer, in Front above Phoenix, hurt severely—skull supposed to be fractured—a prisoner in Moyamensing Prison.

Henry O'Neill, remonstrated with one of the officers against his treatment of Jackson when he was struck, and felled to the ground by one of the deputy sheriffs.

John Daly, in the general melee, was hit by the mace of one of the officers, or a paving stone, which cut through the hat, inflicting a serious wound upon his head.

Mrs. Fraley, a principal among the women, who incited the men to opposition, is also much hurt, but not seriously. She, with Jackson, has the best attendance in Moyamensing Prison.

The prisoners were conducted thereto in the prison van, by officer Blaney of the General Sessions.
